Packing Tips

Use the Right Box

Use smaller boxes for items like photo albums, books and dishes; and larger boxes for items like bedding, blankets and linens.

Get the Right Tools

Make sure you have enough boxes for all your stuff. And don't forget tools like scissors, markers and pen knives; as well as packing materials like tapes and bubble wraps.

Label Every Box

Bedroom
Content:

Label boxes on all sides for easy identification. Mark out clear descriptions like kitchen, bedroom, and books. Clearly mark "This side up" on the box for safe and easy handling.

Don't overload

Don't pack your boxes too heavy, it makes moving difficult and can cause back injuries. For stable stacking, do keep boxes in "shape" and not bulging at the top or sides.

Storage Tips

Storage Tips

Be Organized

Visit your storage unit and plan how you are going to fill the unit before your planned move in date. Remember to place your frequently used items at the front of the unit. If you need frequent access to all your goods, leave a walkway down the center of your unit to make accessing items easier.

Maximize your storage space

Maximize your storage space by stacking to the ceiling, especially those items not needed for some time. Place the heavier boxes on the floor and stack the lighter ones upwards.

Flat-Packing

Disassemble furniture where possible, this not only maximizes your storage space, it can make moving and storing easier.

Don'ts

- Do not store anything flammable (such as paint or flammable chemicals).
- Do not store food stuffs or perishable goods.
- Do not attempt to over-reach, use a stepstool.
